1. Personal data protection

EMA is responsible for processing the personal data of users of the EMA website. Personal data is collected to manage users' requests. For more information, users are invited to consult our data protection policy at the following address.

2. Cookies

Users are informed that during their visit to this website, cookies may be automatically installed on their browser software. You can activate or deactivate your cookies at any time.

2.1 What is a cookie?

A cookie is a text file deposited on your computer when you visit a website. It contains user data that facilitates your navigation and enables certain features such as storing shopping cart contents, saving site language settings, or enabling targeted advertising.

2.2 What is the purpose of our cookies?

Cookies placed on your computer, tablet, or mobile device allow us to recognize your browser when you connect to our site. Concerned with the services we offer, we issue cookies to:

- Establish visitor statistics (number of visits, page views, etc.) to monitor and improve the quality of our services.
- Adapt the presentation of our site to your device's display preferences.
- Provide content related to your interests and personalize the offers we send you.

2.3 What happens if I don't allow cookies?

If cookies are not allowed on your computer, tablet, or mobile device, your experience on our website may be limited (for example, you might not be able to freely navigate the entire site).

How to disable/enable cookies? You can choose to disable cookies in your browser at any time by following the instructions provided in your browser's help files.

You can also configure your cookies directly in your browser settings:
